

This is a page of handwritten musical notation, likely a score for a five-part setting (Quint). The page contains approximately 20 staves of music. The notation is in a historical style, featuring various note values, rests, and clefs. The lyrics are written in Latin and are interspersed between the staves. The text includes phrases such as "Kyrie", "Gloria", and "Agnus Dei". The handwriting is in dark ink on aged, slightly yellowed paper. The overall appearance is that of a historical manuscript, possibly from the 16th or 17th century.

This image shows a page of handwritten musical notation on aged, yellowed paper. The page is filled with approximately 18 staves of music, written in a cursive, historical style. The notation includes various note values, stems, and beams, typical of 17th or 18th-century manuscripts. There are several annotations and markings throughout the score, including the words "Adagio" and "Allegro" written in a smaller hand. Some staves have a "C" time signature, indicating common time. The paper shows signs of age, with some staining and uneven coloring. The overall appearance is that of a well-used, historical musical manuscript.

Handwritten musical score with multiple staves. The top section features a vocal line with lyrics: "mi - hab' ergründlich da - rin - um -". Below this, there are piano accompaniment staves. A section is marked "Succetto" and includes the instruction "ad libitum". The notation is dense and characteristic of 18th-century manuscript notation.

Handwritten musical score for a section titled "Choral". It begins with a "Credo" section. The notation is highly rhythmic and complex, with many beamed notes and rests. The word "Choral" is written at the end of the section. The score includes multiple staves for different parts of the ensemble.

Handwritten musical notation on aged, stained paper. The page contains approximately 18 horizontal staves. The notation is dark and appears to be a form of musical shorthand or tablature, possibly for a lute or similar stringed instrument. The notes are small, dark dots and lines, often grouped together. The paper is heavily stained with dark spots and blotches, particularly in the upper and middle sections. A small, handwritten purple mark is visible near the bottom center of the page.
